Weekly Newsletter

8 January 2022

It's great to be able to share good news! From Sunday the 16th of January we will be back open for all of our services at both 9:30 and 11:15am. We will do our utmost in terms of ventilation, asking you to continue to wear masks and social distance where appropriate, to keep us all safe, but it's great to be making this step.

Sharing good news has been really hard to come by over the last two years and people have felt so low. Yet In all of this remember that we are followers of Jesus. He is still in charge regardless of the circumstances and things will change whatever you're going through. Hope will come, death has been defeated, it's not the end. In fact the end of this earthly life is simply the beginning for those who believe. So today don't lose hope and remember the power of a smile and an encouraging word.

See you this Sunday in person at 9:30am, online at 11:15 and then back together fully from the 16th.

Tim

Cornerstone

Cornerstone is reopening on Monday 10 January at the new time of 10am. This is for a trial period and we will review everything again when things start to improve on the Covid front. Please do come along and join us for tea, coffee and homemade cake. Please wear a mask when walking around in the OSB.

If you are one of the people who has been knitting squares for blankets over the past year or so, please bring them along this Monday, as we are hoping to resume our 'knit & natter' on the second Monday of each month.

Reg will be back on the third Monday of the month to help you with all your computer and technological issues, so please think about any topics you would like covered.

And, rumour has it that the bacon butties will be making a comeback soon!
